

Welsh Winter Fair 2010

The Welsh Winter Fair didn't have quite the same draw to the public or to some exhibitors as it has in previous years, mainly due to the adverse weather conditions, -15° doesn't have the same attraction as previous years.

We were represented by a few resilient exhibitors prepared to weather these conditions, to exhibit cattle sired by British Blonde bulls. Thank you seems an inadequate word, but it was good to have the breed represented.
